Sheriff Randee Kaiser

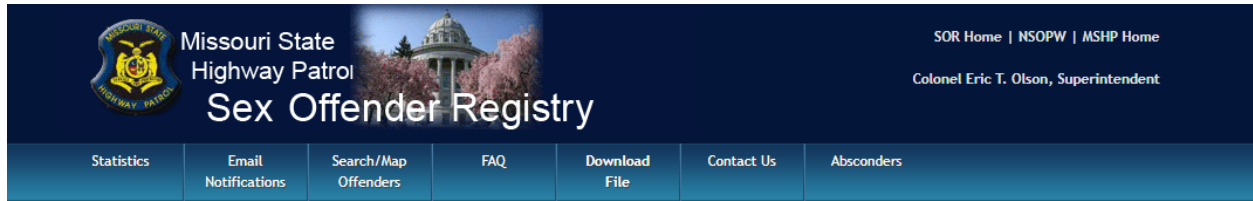

Parents, trick-or-treating is a great adventure for children. Keep it fun by preparing yourself and your children for a safe night out, beginning with these safety tips...

- You, or a responsible adult should always accompany a child when trick or trick-or-treating
- Suggested that your trick-or-treater wear reflective clothing and/or carry a light or glow stick.
- Children, who are responsible enough to go without you, should stay in groups, follow an agreed upon route, and watch for cars.
- Check our website, or that of your local law enforcement agency, for registered sex offenders residing in the area.
- Have a conversation with your child to never enter any home without you or without your permission and only approach homes that are well-lit.
- Remind your children to stay in well-lit areas, never take shortcuts, and never go into isolated areas.
- Let your children know to tell you or a trusted adult if they see anything weird or unusual.
- Teach children to bring treats home before eating them. Eat only factory-wrapped treats.
- Talk to your child about saying NO and GET AWAY from any person or situation making them feel scared, uncomfortable, or confused; even if it means yelling, kicking, attracting attention or any other means of resisting. TRUST THEIR FEELINGS and be sure to TELL a trusted adult.
- Consider safe alternatives such as parties at home, schools, or community organized events.
